Commissioned research: Scanfil – Acquisitions are back on the agenda*Marketing material commissioned by Scanfil Oyj*

Scanfil updated its strategy at the CMD event on March 5. Vision is to be the most preferred manufacturing partner for its customers. Moreover, the segment reporting structure was streamlined and acquisitions came back to the growth agenda. New long term average annual revenue growth target is set to 10% (old 5-7%). The company's new EBIT margin target is 7-8% (old 7%). Net debt per EBITDA target is 1.5x and dividend payout ratio target 1/3 of the earnings per share. Scanfil's M&A firepower is some EUR ~150m. Acquisition are needed to gain new customer accounts and more floor capacity. Regardless of long term ambitions, the FY 2024 guidance midpoint indicates 5% lower net sales y/y at the group level, but net sales could even grow y/y if the destocking effects seen in several sectors come to an end. Ongoing H1 2024 could still be weak for the company but H2 2024 clearly better. The company's current valuation is below the peer group median, but a small discount may be justified if Scanfil cannot improve 2024 net sales and EBIT y/y.

Scanfil expects to grow above the EMS market growth

New Industrial segment will combine old Advance Consumer Applications, Automation & Safety and Communications segments. But the strongest revenue growth is expected to come from Energy&Cleantech and Medtech&LifeScience customer segments. The Council of the EU is requiring member states to collect 90% of single-use plastic bottle containers by 2029. Scanfil produces plastic bottle reverse-vending machines for Tomra which is one example, on top of EV chargers and heat pumps, of the company's growth drivers. The company's organic historic average annual revenue growth has been 8.5%. The EMS market is expected to grow by 5-6% as average in 2023-2028 meanwhile Scanfil's organic growth target is 6-8%. An expansion (EUR 20m and 14,000 m²) to Sieraz will be ready in Q2 2025 offering capacity to growth expectations.

Fair value and sensitivity

We calculate our fair values by weighting DCF, DDM, SOTP, asset-based and other standard valuation methods. Our fair values are sensitive to changes in valuation assumptions, of which growth, margins, tax rates, working capital ratios, investment-to-sales ratios and cost of capital are typically the most sensitive. It should be noted that our fair values would change by a disproportionate factor if changes are made to any or all valuation assumptions, owing to the non-linear nature of the standard valuation models applied (mentioned above). As a consequence of the standard valuation models we apply, changes of 1-2 percentage points in any single valuation assumption can change the derived fair value by as much as 30% or more. All research is produced on an ad hoc basis and will be updated when the circumstances require it.

Marketing material

This research report should be considered marketing material, as it has been commissioned and paid for by the subject company, and has not been prepared in accordance with the regulations designed to promote the independence of investment research and it is not subject to any legal prohibition on dealing ahead of the dissemination of the report.
